

West Papua, Indonesia

Waigeo, Sorong and the Arfak Mountains.

5 - 26 June 2007

Participants: Mikkel Kure Jakobsen, Carl Christian Tofte, Michael Trasborg, Aage Kappelgaard and Claus Brostrøm Nielsen.

Introduction

The entire trip in West Papua was organised by the Indonesian company Papua Expeditions (www.papuaExpeditions.com), which is run by Iwein Mauro and his wife Like Wijaya. Both Iwein and Like went with us the entire trip. Iwein, whom is originally from Belgium, is a very good birdwatcher with a lot of experience from Southeast Asia and West Papua and he therefore knows all the birds in the areas we visited. Furthermore Iwein has sound recordings of all the birds. Besides Iwein, Zeth Wonggar, the bird watching guide from the Arfak Mountains also went with us on the whole trip.

We can without hesitation recommend other birdwatchers to use Papua Expeditions. Papua Expeditions is very professional and made this a fantastic trip.

Flights

The return flight with Singapore Airlines from Copenhagen to Manado with stop in Singapore was booked in Denmark. The other flights; Manado-Sorong, Sorong -Manokwari, Manokwari - Makasar - Manado were all booked by PapuanExpeditions.

Other information

During the intire trip we only had be carry our own small backpack containing only the most important things. Our big backpack and all food and cooking equipment were carried by porters.

We slept under mosquito nets, which we had brought from Denmark. And we also took malaria pills to be on the safe side. We did not see many mosquitos and the nets were more for keeping other insects away. But generally there were not that many insects.

The weather was most of the time good with some rain on Waigeo and in the Arfak Mountains. It should be notes that the nights can be a little cold, especially in Camp 1 and 2 in the Arfak Mountains.

Manado

The night before our flight to Sorong (7 June) and two nights before our flight to Denmark (23 and 24 June) we stayed in Manado at the Sehati Guest House very close to the airport.

Waigeo

The Waigeo Island is reached after 3 hours boat ride from Sorong. The landing point was the mouth of the Waifoi River at the far end of Mayalibit Bay. From the landing point we walked 2-3 hours up the river (it is recommended to wear sandals since you need to walk in the river most of the time) to Camp 1 where we stayed the night.

Birds: Glossy-mantled Manucode, Red Bird of Paradise, Eclectus Parrot

Camp 1 (sea level)

PapuanExpeditions had prior to our arrival made a primitive camp with tarpaulins covered sleeping platforms. We went birdwatching in the areas around the camp.

Birds: Hook-billed Kingfisher, Frilled-, Spot-winged- and Golden Monarch, Black-sided Robin, Palm Cockatoo, Black-capped Lory, Marbled Frogmouth, Brown-headed Crow

Camp 2 (345 m elevation)

From Camp 1 we walked up to the next camp at 345 m elevation. Eventhough the elevation is not very high it was rather exhausting to walk up the slippery forest tracks to Camp 2. Similar to Camp 1 a primitive camp with tarpaulins covered sleeping platforms had been prepared. Close to the camp a Wilson Bird of Paradise has a display court and the bird was seen from a hide.

Birds: Wilsons Bird of Paradise, Red Bird of Paradise, Rufous-bellied Kookaburra, Western Crowned Pigeon, Yellow-billed- and Common Paradise Kingfisher, Pheasant Pigeon, Cinnamon Ground-Dove

Bulavai Island

On the return trip from Waigeo to Sorong we made a stop on the very small island Bulavai west of Waigeo, which has some very god birds.

Birds: Island Whistler, Spice Imperial Pigeon, Olive Honeyeater, Beach Kingfisher

Sorong Lowland

We stayed two nights at a hotel in Sorong after returning from Waigeo. One full day was used for birding in the lowlands around Sorong. Very little primary forest still exists but some god birds can still be found.

Birds: King Bird of Paradise, Lesser Bird of Paradise (only female and juv.), Crinkle-collared Manucode, Black Lory, Papuan Spine-tailed Swift, Grey Crow.

Arfak Mountains

From the airport in Manokwari we drove in 4WD-vehicle to the village Siyoubrig in the Arfak Mountains. The drive took about 3 hours. We made several stops along the road in the lower Arfak Mountains. Flame Bowerbird can be seen in that area but we did not see the bird. We also crossed several rivers where Torrent Flycatcher can be seen, but we were not lucky with that bird either.

Siyoubrig

We stayed 2 nights in a small house in Siyoubrig and went birdwatching in the areas around the village.

Birds: Superb Birds of Paradise, Magnificent Birds of Paradise, Long-tailed Paradigalla and Buff-tailed Sicklebill.

Camp 1 (1815 m elevation)

From Siyoubrig we went up the mountain up to the next camp, where we stayed two nights. This camp was just as on Waigeo a primitive camp with tarpaulins covered sleeping platforms. The camp also had a small hut which could be used for sleeping.

Close to the camp are two display courts for Western Parotia. Next to one of the display courts is a bower of the Vogelkop Bowerbird. On the second morning a Harpy Eagle was heard calling close to the camp for several minutes but we failed to see it.

Birds: Western Parotia, Long-tailed Paradigalla, New Guinea Harpy-Eagle, Long-tailed Buzzard, Vogelkop Bowerbird, Mountain Owlet Nightjar

Camp 2 (2130 m elevation)

From Camp 1 we walked to Camp 2, which is almost on the top of the mountains. Here a primitive camp had also been made in advance. It should be noted that the nights can be relatively cold and it rains a lot during the day. Birds around the camp were. Birds: Black Sicklebill, Arfak Astrapia, Sooty Owl (only heard), Cinnamon-browed Melidectes

From Camp 2 we walked along the mountain ridge down to the road leading to Siyoubrig where 2 cars waited for us. We returned to Siyoubrig for a short while to get all our equipment and then drove to Manokwari. The next day we took the flight to Manado via Makasar.

Tankoko (Sulawesi)

We had one full day in Manado on Sulawesi before our return flight to Denmark and some of us went to the Tankoko Nationalpark close to Manado, and spent the whole day in the park.
